RED GUARD SCHEME

Bolsheviki Here Teld to Enlist in American Army to Aid Russia.

SQUELCHED BY U. S

The United States Government has sat down hard upon the ultra-radical Socialist project of organizing an "American Red Guard" for service in Russia in defence of the revolution. Bolshevik symit has pledges amounting to $28,880 and pathizers in this country have been chasing that will o' the wisp of a scheme for many weeks, and the project is not without the suspicion of a taint of pro-Germanism At any rate, Uncle Sam won't stand for it.

The American Bolsheviki will have to do their bolsheviking right here under the eye of the cops, who are some Blue

The refusal went pretty hard with turers, local Bolsheviki. Fraina, chairman They of the meeting that asked permission of the Government to go abroad, replied the manufacturers had as follows to Gen. Jarney:

THREAT IS HYLAN'S M'DOUGAL MURDER ANSWER TO SHONTS STILL A MYSTERY

Says Interborough Will Have Police Fail to Trap Daughter to Adopt Dual System, 6 Cent Fare or Not.

"I Don't Know How Long People Will Stand Imposition." He Adds.

Mayor Hylan waxed sarcastic last night in a letter to President Shonts of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company on the six cent fare proposition. The railroad executive wrote a special letter to the Mayor maying the company would be willing to put the dual contract into effect simultaneously with the six cent fare.

The Mayor observed that under its ontract the railroad would have to put the system into operation whether it got the increased fare or not. Then the Mayor took a fling at the Public Service Commission, charging it with fallure to compel the operation of parts of the system on which work was completed. The Mayor's letter reads:

"Your letter to me dated March 20 saying that you would be willing to put the dual subway contract into effect simultaneously with the six cent fare is received. It would appear to me that under the contract you will be obliged to put the dual system into effect even though you do not get the six cent fare. Otherwise you will be violating the terms of your contract. I knew that several of the lines have been finished for some time and why the Public Service Commission does not see that they are put in operation I cannot understand unless they are desirous of helping along the six cent fare proposition. In a statement last night Public Service Commissioner Hervey argued against the necessity for the 6 cent fare legisla-tion which the railroad companies are trying to get through the Legislature.

He summed up a long argument:
"So I urge that the proposed 6 cent fare legislation is ill advised, for several reasons of sound public policy, because it substitutes a legislative dictum for facts carefully obtained as a basis for rate making: because it deprives the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of any opportunity to determine what icy should be followed with respect the rate to be charged on the lines of the dual system; because it grants no relief which could not have been obtained by both the surface and the other railroads of the city within the last year under the wholesome safeguards of existing

Police and prosecuting officials of Jer-

In the First Criminal Court yesterday Judge Leo Sullivan remanded the daughter until Monday in order to give the police additional time to dig into the mystery. She is held on a homicide charge.

A dozen detectives, examining every inch of the grounds around the Mc-Dougal homestead, admitted they were baffled, and could obtain no evidence against Miss McDougal, save the contradictory statement made by William Miller, a railroad detective, that he saw her on the porch of her home at 12 o'clock Wednesday, the night of the murder. She claims she went to bed at 10:30 o'clock.

The only motive the police allege is lealousy. They say that Bassie, upon hearing her mother intended to live with her two other daughters. Annie Mc-Dougal and Mrs. Belle N. Harnett, after the sale of the home, said to her mother, "So, it's all cut and dried. Well, I'll see about that."

Another interesting feature of the strange murder was the scrupulous manner in which the person who murdered Mrs. McDougal cleaned up the kitchen afterward, so that when the woman's body was found nothing in the house was disarranged and there was no trace of bleed about, though the wounds on the head of the victim were of such a character that blood must have spattered when they were inflicted. The detectives searched all the territory included by Bessie in her story of where she walked in that neighborhood on the night of the murder, but they found nothing examined the ashes of the stove for evi dence of blood and this search futile. The only weapons four futile. The only weapons found in the house that might have been used were a chisel, a monkey wrench and a hatchet

Denied Knowledge of Crime.

Accused of killing her mother after a parrel. Miss McDougal yesterday reterated her denial of any knowledge of time ago, but we got along all right. The only way I can understand the murler was committed, was by some one coming in the side window of the basement kitchen, and attacking mom." The police found no footprints on the soft ground outside that window, and coal dust on the sill was untouched.

The autopsy yesterday showed Mrs.
McLougal had been struck seven times on the head, five ribs were broken and hemorrhages of the throat proved she had been strangled to death. Fingerbad been strangled to death. Fingerprints of Miss McDougal and those found on the neck of the murdered woman will be compared by Capt. Prescott of the detective bureau. The official inquest into the death of Mrs. McDougal will be started on Friday by Coroner Clarence J. Rieman of Hudson county. Meanwhile, the Prosecutor will ask that the daughter be heid for the Grand Jury.
